CODE OF CONDUCT 2024/25

INDOOR BALL

The atmosphere is different from summer slo-pitch. There is only one division made up with players of different athletic abilities be it hitting, catching or running. The players who sign up are there because they have heard how much fun it is and the comradery amongst the players. Winning is secondary to having a good time playing a game that we love. Players know that they will not be yelled at or berated for mistakes that they make, by fellow players. Players are encouraged not to discourage when they make an error(s), fail to hit in key situations or make base running blunders. Players are treated fairly and respectfully by fellow players. Negative behaviour towards any player will be dealt with swiftly and immediately by your friendly co-convenors.

We will have two volunteer umpires and their call right or wrong is final. If you think that an umpire missed a call, keep it to yourself. Negative behaviour towards an umpire will not be tolerated and is not acceptable. Once again, the co-convenors will take the action necessary to convince you that your behaviour is not conducive to displaying good sportsmanship. Players are playing indoor ball due to its relaxed atmosphere and being active in the winter months. As stated previously, winning is secondary, having fun and enjoying the camaraderie with fellow players is primary.

We expect that anyone playing indoor winter ball agrees with the above principles and agrees to abide by them, and will always display good sportsmanship-not to do so goes against the spirit of indoor ball.
